Whitehall, June 7.

THE following Addreſs having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Dorſet, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

The humble Addreſs of the Nobility, Sheriff, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders, at a General Aſſizes held at Wicklow, the 19th Day of April, 1734, for the County of Wicklow, in Ireland, before the Honourable Sir John St. Leger, Kt. and the Honourable John Wainwright, Eſq; Barons of his Majeſty's Court of Exchequer.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

AMONG the many Congratulations offered to your Majeſty, upon the Marriage of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Royal and his Serene Highneſs the Prince of Orange, we your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, with all Humility, beſeech your Majeſty to receive from us alſo this Teſtimony of our unfeigned Joy.

As the grateful Remembrance of all thoſe Benefits we heretofore received from the illuſtrious Houſe of Orange, by the Preſervation of our Liberties, and of the Proteſtant Religion, has juſtly made a deep and laſting Impreſſion in our Minds; ſo the Goodneſs and Wiſdom which appear in your Majeſty's preſent Choice, convince us that we are to expect a continued Preſervation of thoſe invaluable Bleſſings.

By the Lords Juſtices General and General Governors of Ireland,

A PROCLAMATION.

Hu. Armach. Wyndham C. Hen. Boyle.

WHEREAS his Majeſty has ſignified to us his Royal Pleaſure, That the Parliament of this Kingdom, which now ſtands prorogued to Tueſday the Fourth Day of June next, be further prorogued to Saturday the Twenty Firſt Day of December next; we do therefore Publiſh and Declare, That the ſaid Parliament be, and accordingly the ſaid Parliament is, hereby further prorogued to Saturday the Twenty Firſt Day of December next: Whereof the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament, are to take Notice accordingly.

By their Excellencies Command,

THO. TICKELL.

GOD ſave the KING.

Hambourg, June 11, N. S. The King of Denmark dined Yeſterday at Bremen, and lay laſt Night at Ottersberg. This Evening his Majeſty will be at Buxtehude, and Tomorrow about Noon at Altena, where the Court will remain till the 17th Inſtant, and then proceed to Sleſwig. We are informed by Letters from the Rhine, that Prince Eugene has quitted the Camp at Hailbron, and is marching towards the French Army which covers the Siege of Philipsberg. The Report of Count Plelo's Death is confirmed beyond a Poſſibility of doubting, but the Manner of it is differently related. M. Brackel, the Ruſſian Miniſter, ſays, (and M. Pouſſin, the French Miniſter, has Letters to the ſame Effect) that he was maſſacred by the French themſelves, as he endeavoured to ſtop their Flight and turn them upon the Ruſſians; but other Advices ſay, that the French Succours which Count Plelo had brought back to Wechſelmunde being landed there, took a Reſolution on the 27th to attack the Sommerſchantz; but when they came to put it in Execution, the Troops ſeemed very averſe to go upon that Enterprize: However, as the Count advanced himſelf before thoſe Troops, and commanded them to follow him, they paſſed the firſt Retrenchment without much Difficulty, but were ſtopped at the ſecond by the Steepneſs of it Aſcent, and the Fire of the Ruſſians; here Count Plelo having received a Muſquet Shot in the Thigh was forced to ſit down, in which Poſture he continued animating the Soldiery charging a Piece he had in his Hands, till such time as he was quite disabled by two other Shot: The Russians then sallying out upon the French, dispatched him with their Bayonets. Some say the French lost 300 Men in the Action, and others 500, in which Number are 14 Officers, one of the Quality of Colonel. When the Action was over, General Munich sent the Bodies of Count Plelo, and the Colonel above-mentioned, in Coffins to Wechselmunde: The Ambassadour's Valet de Chambre has since brought them to Copenhagen, where two of the French Frigates are arrived from Dantzick. The Town has not yet surrendred, but having no Hopes of Relief, it is likely it will not hold out long after the Arrival of the Russian Fleet, which we hear is actually at Sea. Prince Eugene is now so strong, that he has thought fit to leave Hailbron, and march towards Philipsberg, in order to give some Diversion to that Siege.

Hague, June, 15, N. S. The States of Holland are to meet next Friday, when they will settle the Ceremonial for the Reception of the Princess of Orange, who is expected here in eight or ten Days. An Express arrived on Saturday last from Naples, going for England to Count Montijo, and brought an Account to M. Oliver, the Spanish Secretary here, that on the 25th of May Count de Montemar had attacked and entirely defeated M. Visconti in his Intrenchments between Andria and Bari, 1400 Germans being killed on the Spot, and 1200 taken Prisoners. Count Uhlefeld received an Express this Day from Vienna, who came through the Imperial Camp last Friday, and brought him an Account, that Prince Eugene designed to pass the Necker as Yesterday, with an Intent to march to the Enemy; so that the News of a Battle is soon expected here.

Whitehall, June 8.

Letters from Paris of the 16th Instant, N. S. say, that an Express was arrived there with an Account, that Marshal Berwick was killed by a Cannon-Ball near the Trenches before Philipsbourg. The same Letters add, that Marshal Villars being arrived at Turin on his Return to Paris, was taken ill at that Place of a Fever, occasioned by his great Fatigue in his Journey thither, and died after three Days Sickness.
